ADDITIONAL BY OVERLAND MAIL.

NEW YORK, May 21.

A special despatch to the N. Y. Herald from Hagerston, Md., of the 20th says that there are reports to the effect that great disaffection exists among the troops at Harper's Ferry, on account of the existence of several factions. One favors the annexation of Virginia to the Confederate States, one the unconditional separate independence of Virginia, and a third, the unconditional Union.

Soldiers of both of the last two classes refuse to take the oath of allegiance to the Confederate States.

The people of Sharpsburg village, 13 miles southeast of the road to Harper's Ferry, swear that no more soldiers of the Confederate States army shall pass their town.

The Tribune says that yesterday, by a bold stroke, the Government obtained possession of the most valuable documentary evidence against the sympathizers with treason in the North. At a given hour the officers of the law visited every considerable telegraph office in the Free States, seizing the manuscripts of despatches for a year past. The Government can now trace the secret operations of the rebels, and their aids, and abettors, and henceforth hold the Northern enemies of the Republic at its mercy.

A special despatch from Chambersburg to the Herald says that a reliable Union man, living in Maryland, states that he was at Harper's Ferry on Friday night, and saw 16 Indians in one squad, but did not see more. He says the small-pox is known to exist among the troops there, but to what extent is unknown. He believes the troops are being sent over Berkeley, Jefferson, Loudon, Frederick and Clark counties, to carry them for Seclusion. The legitimate voters of those counties were largely for the Union.

WASHINGTON, May 21st.
The time for the reception of proposals for the remainder of the United States stock, amounting to nearly $9,000,000, under the Act of February, has been extended to Saturday. The offers regarded as the most advantageous to the United States will be accepted.

It is reported that the U. S. brig Bainbridge will proceed direct to Aspinwall, and act as convoy to the California steamers crossing the Gulf, and protect them from privateers.

The Commercial learns from authentic sources that the extra session of Congress will be short. Business will be compactly arranged, and according to present appearances, almost perfect unanimity will prevail. An impetus will be given to the loyal sentiment, and everything will be done that can be to bring the contest to a speedy termination.

Information just obtained leads to the firm belief that England and France will concur with our Government in the steps taken to reassert its authority. This is also the case with all the diplomatic representatives in Washington. A cordial understanding exists with them all. It will be found that Lord Lyons will fully support the views expressed in the instructions to Mr. Adams.

It is a sufficient denial of the reports as to Lieut. Gen. Scott's infirm health to say that he is engaged in the discharge of his official duties not only through the day, but to a late hour every night.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 21.
The Bank of the Interior, a new institution having been in existence only a few years and doing business almost wholly with Canada, suspended at the close of Banker's hours to-day. The Tribune's Washington correspondent says that a gentleman high in the confidence of the Virginia patriots arrived here to-day from Wheeling, through Harper's Ferry, reports 4,000 troops there, badly armed and equipped and provisioned, and not formidable. He says that northwestern Virginia will form a State embracing sixty counties, in which the Union feeling is nearly unanimous.

The Virginia soldiers voted for secession yesterday—Gen. Lee having issued orders, as precautionary, fearing that military exigencies might prevent voting on Thursday.

The Washington Star has positive information that a majority of the Secession troops within 50 miles of Washington refused to take the oath of hostility to the United States, and so did a large fraction of the Harper's Ferry troops.

100 men with 6 pieces of cannon arrived at Jefferson City yesterday, upon the White Cloud, from Independence.

The Democrat's informant also states that considerable excitement prevailed yesterday at Jefferson City, in consequence of the discovery of an attempt to poison the troops by putting arsenic in the flour from which their bread is made. It is said that a Union man is baker to the troops, and a Secessionist, in order to effect their destruction, had made an arrangement with a negro to poison the bread. She informed against him. Spies were placed so as to overhear the conversation between him and the woman, when he was arrested and placed in jail. A proposition was made to hang him, but was overruled.

Capt. Blandowski, of the 2d regiment Missouri Volunteers, who was wounded in the leg at Camp Jackson on the 10th instant, underwent the painful process of amputation of the wounded leg yesterday. Capt. B. is a Hungarian exile of some distinction.

This movement is supposed to have some reference to operations on the Virginia rebels. The Michigan regiment is ordered to be ready to march at any moment, with two days' rations."

The N. Y. Tribune's correspondent says: We learn from prominent citizens of Petersburg, Va., (of Northern birth,) that there is but one Union man that dares vote for the Union—Rives, ex-member of Congress—who is determined to cast his vote for the Union. The informant further says: If the Union men were protected, a large Union vote would be cast against Secession.

300 North Carolina troops arrived on Monday, and went to Richmond, and 700 more were expected the next day. They complain bitterly of having to leave their own State, saying they enlisted to defend North Carolina only.

The N. Y. Tribune's Washington dispatch furnishes the following particulars: Col. Ellsworth was shot as he was descending the stairs with the Secession flag which he had torn down, by the man Jackson, keeper of the Marshal House, with a double-barrel gun. He expired almost instantly, dyeing the Secession flag with his blood. He only said, "My God!"

Intense excitement was created by the assassination of Col. Ellsworth. Bells are tolling, buildings are dressed in crape, and flags are flying at half-mast. Ellsworth was shot in the back by one Jackson, proprietor of a hotel in Alexandria. Jackson was immediately killed by Francis D. Brownell, of Troy, a member of Ellsworth's Zouaves. The body is lying in State at the Navy Yard. President Lincoln, who was a warm personal friend of Ellsworth, is deeply affected by his death.

A dispatch announcing the assassination of Col. Ellsworth, received in his native town, Marcellus, N. Y., caused the utmost sorrow and indignation. The father of Col. Ellsworth happened to be in the telegraph office when the intelligence was received. All the flags in town are at half-mast. The sympathy expressed for his parents is universal. The Colonel was their only living son.

Flags are flying at half-mast in this and all the Eastern cities for the death of Col. Ellsworth. Great indignation and sorrow is expressed for his murder.

Col. Ellsworth's remains were this morning conveyed to the east room of the President's house, where they lie in state.

An officer just from Washington says that there are 12,000 troops at Richmond; they are arriving on every train. Two regiments from North Carolina arrived while he was there, and two from South Carolina left on the same train he started on, but turned off to the left at Taylorsville. This would take them to Gordonsville, and they probably went to Culpepper.

The Kentucky regiments were ordered to reinforce the Virginians at Point of Rocks yesterday. They were throwing up entrenchments on the heights last night.

An officer just from Washington says that the War Department received to-day accounts of the occupation of several new and formidable batteries near Norfolk and Sewall's Point.

Two hundred soldiers from Federal Hill marched through Baltimore this afternoon, and seized a large quantity of gunpowder, which was taken to the Magazine in Fort McHenry.

The following is an extract from the Montgomery correspondence of the Charleston Courier of May 11th:

"I understood from a gentleman just arrived from Pensacola, that Gen. Bragg expressed himself ready to commence an attack on Pickens yesterday. He has computed that in capturing the fortress 3,000 lives will be lost on our side. He says that the place cannot be taken at a lesser sacrifice. From the great preparation in the medical bureau, I am inclined to think that a speedy attack is premeditated. Surgeons seem to be in demand, and instruments and medicines more so."

The Washington Star has positive information that a majority of the secession troops within 50 miles of Washington, refused to take oath of hostility to the United States, also a large fraction of the Harper's Ferry troops.

The Tribune's Washington correspondence says a gentleman high in the confidence of the Virginia patriots arrived here to-day from Wheeling, through Harper's Ferry, reports 4,000 troops there, badly armed, equipped and provisioned, and not formidable.

He saw, at Memphis, 3000 troops furnished with altered flintlock muskets, from the Baton Rouge arsenal.

There are two batteries on the Mississippi, between Memphis and Cairo.

Many of the troops are Northern men who have been impressed into service. Half of the soldiers there refused to leave their city, and the government issued a proclamation ordering all companies to disband that did not enter the service of the South unconditionally.

Ammunition was very scarce, and no unnecessary firing was permitted.

Two companies in Memphis are composed of chain-gang convicts.

A gentleman just arrived at Washington from Alexandria states that the Fire Zouaves have commenced executing their threats of revenge. They have already shot three violent Secessionists. The people of Alexandria who were sympathizers with Jackson have been compelled to flee for their lives.

The aggregate vote in the following places in Virginia, viz.: Uniontown, Clarksburg, Claysville, Grafton, Surdis, Roseburg, Portland, Piedmont and New Creek, was 1738 against ratifying secession and 66 for it.

The State Department has received no dispatches whatever from our Legations abroad. The assertion that Great Britain has refused to accept a recognition of the resolution of the Paris Congress respecting privateering is a fiction, devised and published for the most mischievous purposes.

FORTRESS MONROE, May 24.

General Butler suddenly made his appearance yesterday at Hampton, at the head of the Vermont regiment, on a reconnaissance. The rebels attempted to burn the Long Bridge, but were frustrated by the activity of the advance guard. To-day (Friday) he extends a reconnaissance several miles up the peninsula, between the James and York rivers. The Troy and Vermont regiments have encamped near Hampton.

The Harriet Lane has gone to Charleston.

Upon the arrival of the frigate Mississippi, it is expected that active operations will be undertaken against Sewall's Point. In the action of last Sunday, three of the four guns there were dismounted, and at least half a dozen men were killed. The battery was to contain 13 guns.

Two New Decisions.

Two very important decisions were rendered yesterday by Judge Cameron. The first in reference to the injunction against the Hudson Bay Company, the other in reference to the case of Cusson vs. Little. We have not room for either in this issue, but they will appear in extenso hereafter. So far as the injunction against the Company is concerned, the case is not concluded. The main issue to restrain the Company from selling any more of the 3084 acres of land, and to appoint a receiver to collect instalments due, has been distinctly refused. The grounds given by the Court for its refusal are that the land is now in litigation before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council; and as that court has full power to send here and collect evidence and take steps in the matter, the court here does not deem it advisable to interfere. We fail to see in that a good and sufficient reason to refuse to restrain the Company. There was no evidence before the Court to show that the Privy Council were aware of the difficulties it would involve purchasers in, provided the Company continued to sell. There was evidence here on that point. Consequently we consider that the injunction should have been granted, as a protection to individuals as well as Colonial interests; and that being done it would naturally follow that a receiver should be appointed. If the Court here had no power to grant an injunction whilst such a suit was pending in England before the Privy Council, then there would be the best excuse imaginable for not granting it. But the Court has the power, and with the full knowledge of that power, refuses to exert it in order to straighten up Hudson Bay matters.

If we allowed that the refusal to grant an injunction to restrain the Company from selling any more land was correct—but we do not allow it—then a very natural conclusion would follow, that the Cary government has failed to lay matters in their true light before the Imperial Government. For there can be little doubt that, if the relations of the Company to the Colony in regard to the 3084 acres of land were fully explained in all their bearings, the Imperial Government would authorise putting the property under such restraint as would insure the Colony individually and collectively from all loss or injury. We then have to thank Mr. Cary for not attending to this matter in due season, instead of taking it up at a time when it was necessary to catch at any straw to save himself if possible. But even now he fails.

In reference to the sales of the Reserves, who can doubt for an instant, that an injunction should be granted? A lis pendens is only a notice to parties that they buy subject to certain conditions unsettled. Something more peremptory was required, or else the sales of Reserves may go on as heretofore. This subject was not before the Privy Council, and consequently we regard the decision as defective, and the lis pendens a mere scarecrow to the nervous, whilst the daring and wire-working speculator may snap his fingers at it, and risk all the chances.

So far as the sale of the water-front is concerned, the injunction is refused till interrogatories are answered by the Company as to the parties to whom they sold the lots. Till such time restraint is not deemed advisable. A point was touched in this matter well worthy public attention, viz., that no person can construct a wharf till after a month's notice be given to the Court of Admiralty, under penalty of £200.

The decision in the case of Cusson vs. Little is a very interesting one to commercial men and lawyers. Cusson wanted to sell Little's property by execution, but was restrained by the Court; and the intimation was given that the Bankrupt Laws of England would be enforced, and the machinery of a Bankrupt Court appointed immediately, and then the assets of Little could be turned over for the benefit of all his creditors. An opinion prevails in legal circles that the Bankrupt Laws of England do not extend here. Even Judge Cameron suggested that it would have been better had our legislature adopted them by an Act. But that august body having failed to do its duty, Judge Cameron has undertaken to render them operative here without any such sanction. We have no idea that they can be extended here, without straining things considerably, except by the legislature; yet there is no doubt but they will afford considerable relief to the embarrassed. Besides, it is difficult to see who has the authority to appoint the Bankruptcy Judge, as the Order in Council constituting our Courts is silent on the matter. And if no power exists to appoint a judge, there is none to authorise the subordinate machinery of the Court. However outsiders may regard the matter, the fact is indisputable that the English Bankruptcy Laws, and we presume Insolvent Laws, will be put in operation here immediately, so both lawyers, insolvents, and creditors will have to govern themselves accordingly, or at least till the legislature provides some more simple means to release insolvents from their liabilities.

Supreme Court.

TUESDAY, June 18, 1861.
Mr. H. P. P. Crease rose to a question of privilege in reference to an occurrence that took place yesterday in this Court, when he appeared for Mr. Franklin in the case of Trahey vs. Franklin, McDonald & Co. When he made a motion based on his own affidavit to postpone the case until evidence was obtained from British Columbia, Mr. Cary impugned his testimony by stating that he (Cary) would place witnesses in the box to disprove it, which was equivalent to charging him with perjury.

Mr. Cary, in reply, stated that he had been instructed by his client that Mr. Crease had made a mistake; and that facts were given to the best of Mr. Crease's recollection. He had promised to lay an affidavit before the Court on Friday next.

Mr. Crease—As Mr. Cary made an attempt to put me down as a person unworthy of belief, or not fit to give true legal testimony, and now refuses to give true legal testimony, I ask the Court for a distinct expression of opinion.

Judge Cameron—The Court was displeased yesterday at the occurrence. It was not so much the words as the manner in which the Attorney General offered them. It would be very much better for counsel to show more respect to each other. The proceedings were not all dignified yesterday. The conduct of the Attorney General in contradicting on the instant was injudicious to say the least.

INJUNCTION AGAINST THE H. B. CO. REFUSED.
The Court refused in the present stage of the case to grant an Injunction against the Hudson Bay Company to restrain them from selling any more land, or to appoint a receiver, on the ground that it was before the highest Court in England. That Court had power to institute inquiries if it wished. So far as selling the Reserves are concerned, the Court believed that the lis pendens now registered would be a notice to all parties, and answer all the purposes of an injunction. In regard to selling the water-frontage in violation of the official map, as the Court was ignorant of the names of the persons who purchased the water-front, it did not deem it advisable to grant the motion now.

Attorney-General Cary—Stated that interrogatories would be applied to the Company to elicit the necessary information.

CUSCUS vs. J. T. LITTLE & CO.
The decision of the Court in this case was given, by dissolving the injunction, and announcing that the machinery of a Bankrupt Court would be completed within a week, and that all the creditors of Little could come in for an equal show of the assets.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A young man named Francis, employed by D. B. Ring, Esq., as groom, while riding a horse across Sangster's Plains on Monday evening, in company with John Parker, was drawn from the animal and dragged some distance by another horse which he was leading. He received severe injuries in the head, but nevertheless was enabled to remount his animal and continue his journey. When near the first bridge, however, he gave out entirely, and was assisted to Mr. Parker's house, where Dr. Trimble was called and every attention rendered. Yesterday afternoon the injured man was conveyed to the Hospital. His chief injuries appear to be on the right temple, and he remained in a state of semi-consciousness all yesterday.

NOBLE CONDUCT OF AN INDIAN.—As a drove of wild cattle, just landed from the Eliza Anderson, were yesterday being taken up Johnson street by five or six men, a portion of the herd turned off into Store street, and made for the ravine. Three young children of Mr. Derham were at the time in the middle of the road, and the bystanders were so situated that they could not interfere, when suddenly an Indian with great presence of mind rushed to the rescue and lifted the children into an empty cart behind which he himself dodged, just in time to escape being trampled by the ungovernable animals.

THE PORT DOUGLAS STEAMBOAT.—The steamboat hull built by Mr. Kelly, and now lying at Laing's shipyard, has been purchased by Mr. J. I. Bramley, a merchant of Cayoosh Flat, for the purpose of putting her on the Fraser River, to run to Port Douglas. Mr. J. M. Greavy is now below for the purpose of procuring machinery for her. She will be running in about six weeks from this date. She will carry about 40 tons of freight, and is expected to have machinery strong enough to carry her to Yale at any stage of the water. She is to be called the "Union."

U. S. MILITARY MOVEMENTS.—The Portland Advertiser of the 14th inst. says that many of the Oregon posts are to be abandoned. The San Juan Island garrison has also been ordered to leave for San Francisco at once. The Advertiser thinks these troops are intended for service in the East, while others say that they will be used in conjunction with California volunteers to operate against Texas. The latter is probably the correct version.

ANTLER CREEK GOLD.—Messrs. Wright & Nelson, of Cayoosh, have had 100 ounces of Antler Creek gold assayed in this city. It is 824 fineness—rather a low grade—and yields $16 50 per ounce. The gold from Keithley's Creek, a few miles below Antler, assays about $17 25 per ounce. The Antler nuggets contain some quartz and cement, but are much heavier than any gold heretofore found in British Columbia.

THE NEW BRIDGES.—The bridges over Rock Bay and the Arm of the Harbor have passed the inspection of the Surveyor-General and have been accepted by that functionary. The road between the two bridges has not yet been accepted.

INDECENT EXPOSURE.—An Indian was arrested on a vacant lot near Langley street, yesterday afternoon, while going through his ablutions in a perfect state of nudity, and in full view of passers-by and neighbors.

THANKS.—To Capt. John Fleming, G. B. Wright, and Major Van Bokkelen, for late papers per Overland Mail, and other important favors.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—No steamer is advertised at San Francisco for this port. The Pacific had not arrived down on the 7th inst. The Cortes left San Francisco on the 7th, arrived at Portland on Wednesday last, and left again for San Francisco on Saturday. Her announcement for this place was incorrect.

A BRITISH LINE OF STEAMERS.—It is reported in San Francisco that a line of British steamers will shortly be placed on the route between Aspinwall and New York, connecting with the California steamers on this side.

THE STEAMERS.—The Gov. Douglas left at 8 o'clock last evening, for New Westminster, with 21 tons of freight, and 30 passengers. The Otter left for the same destination at 9 o'clock, carrying 70 tons of freight and 15 passengers.

AN OLD BIRD.—Sergt. Blake yesterday captured a sailor who deserted from the Ganges over a twelvemonth since.

The Eliza Anderson will leave for ports on the Sound at 8 o'clock this morning.

"SCOTTY"—Was yesterday sent to the chain-gang for three months.
